Under the general supervision of the Director of the UCLA Art & Global Health Center (AGHC), the Program Manager/Youth Educator contributes as a core staff member of the team, working (1) to organize the vision of the Center into viable work plans, action-steps, and timelines for event and project production, and (2) to serve as AGHC's resident youth sexual health educator. The Program Manager/Youth Educator must be a self-starter, providing support (and triage when urgent and unanticipated situations emerge) to the Center's wide portfolio of initiatives and projects. Primary responsibilities include project and event coordination, and direct engagement with Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD) priority schools and juvenile detention centers as a youth sexual health educator.
